

ABOUT HCN

The mission of Homeless Children's Network has always been to make marginalized voices heard, in order for them to become more stable, confident, and supported.

As HCN expands as the hub of a 52-member collaborative, we look for new ways to raise and unite marginalized voices.

OEWD Program (Afro-Cultural Preservation Program for the Black LGBTQ+ Community)

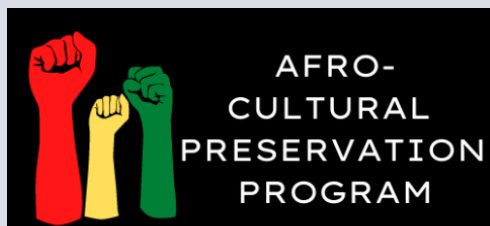

Through the OEWD Program, HCN's newest initiative continues to allow underserved voices to be heard. The Office of Economic and Workforce Development (OEWD) is a San Francisco-based service that provides grants to historically silenced Black LGBTQ+ organizations and businesses.

Since 1992, we have provided security and stability to the most underserved families in San Francisco, including those experiencing homelessness and domestic abuse trauma.

Ma'at Program

The Ma'at Program is one of the many ways we continue to positively impact San Francisco's marginalized community. This initiative is a San Francisco-based, supportive, holistic, therapeutic community that focuses on and works with Black/African American families. A Black/African American-created service for Black/African Americans.
